A girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crockett, of the eastern suburb, last week.

Arthur McKee and wife are entertaining a baby son that arrived last week—their third son.

The third son arrived at the home of S. A. Dowd and wife (new Mrs. Etchison), at Hillsboro, Saturday.

The mass convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for Circuit Court Clerk will be held here next Saturday.

Three colored members of the Salvation Army, a man and a woman—were working among their race here this week.

I will be at Conner's livery stable Court day, Aug. 8, to buy a car-load of fruit.

4. NEWTON RANKIN.

School-trustee elections will be held in about 23 of the county districts next Saturday. Six colored districts will elect a colored visitor.

MARRIAGE.—In Menifee county on July 29, 1910, Wm. Blewett, son of Big V. and Mrs. Blewett, each, were married by Rev. H. Adams.

NOTICE.—Everybody is warned not to hire or employ my son Wesley until my consent, as he is under 21 years of age.

W. D. Johnson,

3-1/2 Sherburne, Ky.

EXPORT CATTLE SOLD.—Col. W. T. Phelps sold 72 head of export cattle at $7.45 per hundred pounds; D. C. Fox sold 40 head at $7.25, and R. C. Gatewood refused $7.55 for 150 head.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

FEVER PATIENTS.—The following have typhoid fever:

John and sister Mrs. Annie Coyle.

Alex Conner's little daughter Eleanor.

Mrs. James R. Maxey.

Mrs. Frank Young.

THE WEATHER.—The front part of last week was cool, but the latest part hot until Saturday, when the temperature set in and lasted until Monday forenoon. There were rains Wednesday morning a noon, and showers Friday night.

SEE THE ARROW?—As a ready means of notifying subscribers that their names are to be removed from our mailing list, we make an arrow mark at the address label on their OUTLOOK. Remember that we can not extend credit now like we used to, so the postal authorities are not permitting it.

CASE PROSPECTS.—To tobacco and corn were harvested and were last week, but were suffering for moisture when rains fell Wednesday forenoon and a night. But, for that, the prospect is not good for more than a half acre of tobacco and corn. There are exceptions in individual cases, but these are offset by the portions of crops destroyed by overflows or otherwise.

TO FOX DROWNED.—Thomas Fox, Jr., son of Thomas Fox, Sr., the wealthy farmer of near Ewing, was drowned in the river Sunday in a bend on Jack Galloway's Grubbs farm near Joshua Owings' farm, Montgomery county. For started to swim across the pond, but when he got in and drowned before help could reach him. It is supposed that heart disease or cramps caused him to drown. He was aged about 28 years and was well known as a popular young man in this part of the State. He is survived by his parents, brothers Will and Dave and sister Mrs. Warren Stoner.

PERSONAL

J. W. Hutcheson is slowly improving.

T. S. Shroud was laid up some days last week with a boil.

Walter Harper, of Mt. Sterling, came over Tuesday.

Miss Grace Whaley is visiting relatives in Montgomery county.

Mrs. Geo. W. Mills will leave Thursday to visit her parents at Perryville.

R. S. Estill, after a long illness with malarial fever, is able to go about again.

Miss Anna Prather, of Danville, visited her cousin Mrs. Geo. W. Mills last week.

Mrs. Dora Cook, of Holden, W. Va., is visiting her sister Mrs. James A. Barnes.

Mrs. Floyd Ross, of Mt. Sterling, visited her aunt Miss Carrie Nixon last week.

Carry W. Estill got some beef in the past week, being able to take nourishment.

Mrs. James Gillon and daughter Ellen were Saturday to visit relatives at Flemingsburg.

Mrs. Sarah Jackson went last week to visit her son Jas. Jackson, of Montgomery county.

Mrs. Susette Johnson, of Mt. Sterling, visited her sister Mrs. H. S. Goodpaster last week.

Mrs. W. P. Strader, of Lexington, is with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Nesbit, who has been ill.

Jeff Ratliff and wife, of Mt. Sterling, visited the former's brothers, Cabe and Sam, of L. W. Bascom.

Land is still on the rise.

Lewis Carter, that was offered to Jeff at $27 per acre when he was here, was offered $28 per acre three months ago at $32.

The 960 acres that I offered Jeff at $27 two months ago at $36.

Wm. Clayton was here Saturday.

He has improved it still; that would have made him a good profit.

I have offered $35 for the land that I paid $12 for four years ago.

My improvements have been $1,000.

You ought to see Judge Lane out on the farm tying hay at the present. He and two other kids can do one man's work, and he is a good boy.

He got his hay in good shape.

The hay crop is good this year, and thousands of tons have been shipped off at $7 per ton.

But the little little boy

I would advise everybody to come to T. C. while the crops are on the land; then they can see what will grow here.

If any wants to know anything more about it, call me.

As ever, your friend,

JAMES A. BARNES.

P. S.—Find draft for my renewal.

J. A.

Mrs. Emma Fassett, of Mt. Sterling, is staying with her sister Mrs. Mary Metcalfe, who is in the hospital.

Mrs. Wm. Atkinson and daughter

Eliza, of Cincinnati, were married by Rev. H. Adams.

PROSPECTS IN TEXAS.—Rosenberg, Texas, July 28, 1910.—OUTLOOK: I thought I would write a few lines to let my old friends know that I am still living and enjoying good health, and hope that you will find them enjoying the same.

The Claytons and the Lanes are all well except Will Lane, who had a terrible lay off on account of a severe attack of bilious fever, but is out again.

We are having fine weather, and the gulf breeze is fanning us just right.

We have a fine prospect for good crops. Some are growing in the fields at half acre.

Some corn is judged at 80 bushels per acre.

From what I have seen in the four years that I have been here I think this is a good agricultural country. All it needs is a few more Northern men with some push about them to take the place of the old natives who have no get-up about them.

WENDLING CAUGHT IN SAN FRANCISCO

H. B. FORMER FIANCÉE UNCONSCIOUSLY ASSISTED THE OFFICERS IN HIS ARREST.

DRAINED FROM 'BENEATH SINK'

Protests His Innocence, But the Police Claim They Have Enough Evidence to Convict Him—Arrested in Lodging House.

San Francisco—Draughted from beneath a sink in the washroom of a Third street lodging house in this city, where he had been hiding for 44 hours, Joseph A. Wendling, accused of the kidnaping of George L. Harling, Louisville, Ky., was arrested by Detectives Burke and Ryan, of the local police department.

Wendling admitted his identity, but denied his innocence of the crime.

A few hours after the arrest Captain of Detectives Carney, of Louis ville, arrived to learn that his 11 hours of work in getting Wendling had been crowned with success.

In his relentless pursuit of the supposed murderer, Carney many times had to leave his office to make the whereabouts of his quarry always safe with Mrs. Cora Meesa, a milliner, of Hume, Mo., who unconsciously helped him.

Mrs. Meesa met Wendling at the home of her aunt, in Houston, Texas, and, before she returned to Hume, she had to leave the city, as the Frenchman, who dangled the arm with taste of his quarry always was with Mrs. Cora Meesa, a milliner, of Hume, Mo., who unconsciously helped him.

After the arrest, Wendling was remanded to the convention of Hume, Mo., for trial.

W. F. Treadway of Cleveland was remanded to Hume, Mo., for trial.

Despite the efforts of Senator George L. V. Craig, of Indianapolis, and his colleagues, the convention of Hume, Mo., voted to postpone the trial of Wendling until the fall.

Before Mrs. Meesa left Houston she grew to fear Wendling and after her return to Hume she broke the shackles.

Carney went to Rio Vista, but the man had fled, leaving behind him, however, his name on the roll of a company which was to be used to identify him along the Colorado river. Then the trail again became so cold that Carney determined to visit Mrs. Meesa at her home in Hume.

He selected a time just to prevent the destruction of a postal card which gave the address of Wendling in Valley, Cal.

When Wendling was flushed to San Francisco, a detective was at once sent to Valley. In the possession of Alice Miller, with whom Wendling had been living, he found the fugitive, who had a revolver and a complete set of burglar tools.

Wendling soon was traced to this city, but the detective went there to find the man in a drug store, who left a suitcase in a deserted house in the North Beach frontier.

The death of his own hand of this suspect, who died in a struggle with the detective, without a shot, but they caught it again with Captain of Detectives Wall received a tip that Wendling was in a "leaded" street corner.

The owner of the house declared that a man answering Wendling's description had been in his house but a few days before. The police made a search and when Wendling was dragged from his bed he did not make the slightest resistance, but when the bullet was driven in his hand and the bullet hole on his arm were exposed by his captors he readily admitted his identity.

Wendling admitted his innocence, but the Kehoe court, deciding he had nothing to do with the killing, had him set free.

Wendling admitted his innocence, but the Kehoe court, deciding he had nothing to do with the killing, had him set free.

According to Carney, the evidence showed Wendling was very strong. The strongest link was the discovery of some of the girl's bloody clothing in a room in the house.

Wendling says he left Louisville on January 14, four months before the mutilated body of his child was found. He had a revolver with his brother-in-law, Louis Arnold, and he intended to say a word that would in any way connect him with the death of the child.

"I did not believe any man, and my knowledge never saw her," said Wendling. "The story that I saw her enter the school on the morning she disappeared is a lie. I never saw her in the building in either direction."

"With as was to escape the wrath of my brother-in-law, I am of course in a bind," he said.

Wendling left in the company of Captain of Detectives Carney Tuesday evening, January 14, and was arrested by the city police, which he left January. He is anxious to return and his confident manner in expressing his desire to face the murder indictment and have the thing over with the records of history.

"I did not believe that Joe killed the girl. When he was in the house, I did not go to see him at once. Some one else killed that child—not Joe. I always was anxious to find out where he was, but he was dead and I did not think Joe is innocent."

Arlind, his brother, denied the statement made by Wendling according to Carney that he had threatened to dislodge him if he did not come out and see his wife.

"He didn't have time to become of that," said Arlind. "We quarreled several times, but I never threatened to kill him. He left because of that trip up to Louisville."

Frederick, his father, of the murdered man, was outraged at the news of the suspect's arrest.

"I'm glad they got him," said he. "I am now anxious to learn whether he has made any confession."

PRESIDENT BACK AT BEVERLY

TAFT CONGRATULATES HARDING ON HIS NOMINATION.

Send Message to Ohio Nominees and Express Satisfaction With Platform Adopted.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft sent the following dispatch to Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for governor of Ohio:

"I sincerely congratulate you on your nomination. I sincerely hope that you will be elected."

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

The president, in a letter to the Ohio platform, has upheld his self to a reading of it as soon as he got back to Beverly. The dispatch of the governor was as follows:

"With a couple of days in which to rest up from the campaign, the president will be ready to buckle down to the work of the new administration from now on in earnest.

"The president has arrived in Washington. Two came in, in fact, while the president was absent in Columbus. O.—By a fusion of the Garfield and administration delegations, the two delegations, led by Thomas M. Johnson, of Ohio, and by Governor for the third ballot, after James R. Garfield and Carmi A. Thompson.

"W. F. Treadway of Cleveland was nominated for lieutenant governor; Greenville, W. Mo., nominee for secretary of state.

"Despite the efforts of Senator George L. V. Craig, of Indianapolis, and his colleagues, the convention of Hume, Mo., voted to postpone the trial of Wendling until the fall.

"The platform which it is expected will be a model for future Republican candidates was adopted almost unanimously, though there was but a few scattered "noes."

KEystone PARTY IS FORMED

Ticket Will Oppose Nominees of Both Democrats and Republicans in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia.—The Keystone party was formed here to oppose the nominees of both the Republicans and Democrats in Pennsylvania.

The convention, composed of 317 delegates from 63 counties, met yesterday for the first time and adopted a platform which has been laid in the last chapter with the arrest of Dr. Harvey L. Chipman, of Haverhill, Mass., and his wife, who was accused of being a member of the delegation.

Both the criminal and political and police and inspection departments were present in the hall.

John G. Carlisle, of Philadelphia, was elected chairman of the delegation.

The platform which it is expected will be a model for future Republican candidates was adopted almost unanimously, though there was but a few scattered "noes."

Philadelphia.—The Keystone party was formed here to oppose the nominees of both the Republicans and Democrats in Pennsylvania.

The convention, composed of 317 delegates from 63 counties, met yesterday for the first time and adopted a platform which has been laid in the last chapter with the arrest of Dr. Harvey L. Chipman, of Haverhill, Mass., and his wife, who was accused of being a member of the delegation.

Both the criminal and political and police and inspection departments were present in the hall.

John G. Carlisle, of Philadelphia, was elected chairman of the delegation.

The platform which it is expected will be a model for future Republican candidates was adopted almost unanimously, though there was but a few scattered "noes."

KEystone PARTY IS FORMED

Ticket Will Oppose Nominees of Both Democrats and Republicans in Pennsylvania.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Will J. Fields, of Carter county, to speak for Congress in the Ninth district of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Some paragrapher quotes that the Peerless One led his leadership in his home State because he was leading a hearse campaign.

Decorative Garage of Owingsville, covered himself with glory in trailing down Wondell, suspected of the murder of little Alvin Kellner, and securing his arrest, even if he wasn't in at the finish.

WIRELESS telegraphy led to the arrest of Dr. Crippen, wanted on a charge of wife murder in London on his way to the United States. He was captured in Quebec. The way of the fugitive from justice is hard, but the murderer of Miss Siegel is still at large.

TEDDY's nephew and namesake Theodore Douglas Robinson didn't let his illustrious kinship's fame get in the way, to win the Republican Congressional nomination in the 27th New York district. And Teddy had promised to stump for him if nominated.

JEFFERSON county has won its suit against the raise of 12 per cent. of assessed valuation of property by the State Board of Equalization and will collect the tax without the added per cent. The case will have to go to the Court of Appeals for final settlement.

WM. JENNINGS BRYAN lost his leadership of his home State last week at the Nebraska Democratic convention, when he soundly defeated his local option proposition. He was a host in his day, but his day can't come back, though he will never concede it. If he would retire the world would stand a good chance to come back into power at Washington.

Two farmers in Fayette county fell out over the comparative weeding of a tobacco crop of the son of one of them. After a quarrel they agreed to meet and discuss the question with shot-guns, when they did, one was fatally wounded and the other killed outright. One was aged 68 years, and the other 47. Such trivialities are too often the origin of tragedies in Kentucky.

The Ohio Republican State convention resulted in a harmonious gathering of the forces of G. H. Hardin for Governor on a platform endorsing the Taft administration and the work of the late session of Congress. The same element got their man, the Stanislawski, to do the same all their platform. If Harmonious Hardin will make him a formidable Presidential candidate.

LEWIS county, 6 votes, and Rowan, 4, each went for W. J. Fields for the 9th District Democratic Congressional nomination at Carlisle Wednesday, July 27. Fields winning on the first ballot by 61 votes to Edgar B. Hager's 49.

Fields made a surprising race, and enters the campaign with a large following. He is confidently claimed for him by his friends that he will make heavy inroads on the Republican vote. If true he will readily wipe out the slight Republican majority.

INSURGENT JAS. A. GARFIELD, who thought he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Ohio, emerged from the debris piled on him by the Republicans and said that he said manifestly that he shouldered all the blame of the blinding conduct of the Insurgent battle against the Standard.

Harmonious Hardin, Harding, he because the Insurgents of Ohio can stand anything better than party irregularity.

JOHN G. CARLISLE died in New York City at 10:50 o'clock, P.M. Sunday. He was one of Kennedy's greatest sons, and a member of the first rank in the nation. He had few, if any, equals in rapid mastery of a subject and its clear presentation in speech or writing. He filled many official positions, and always with the highest fidelity. He was fully and faithfully abused during the free-silver craze, but he lived to see his cause fully vindicated. Men of his quality of mind are rare centuries.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Wyoming.

All the folks enjoyed the ice-cream supper at Mr. Perry's Saturday night.

Dr. H. B. Anderson has located at Wyoming for the practice of his profession. We wish and pray for his success.

Frank Jones had a colic peculiarly affected last week; blood flowed from his mouth with stripe resembling part of the lungs. He is in good condition and appears to be all right now.

A number from a distance attended the funeral service at White Oak Sunday. The house was full and there were many on the outside.

Elders Parker and Cotwell relatives in Winchester last week.

DEATH.—Mrs. Annie Barber died Thursday evening at eight o'clock. She had dropped for several years. She was the widow of Charles Barber, of Wyoming, who died in December. She leaves her husband, Mr. Barber, and three sons: George Moxley, three brothers Ed, who is married, and Joe and Charlie at home; and four sisters: Mrs. James Gandy, Mrs. Henry Moxley, Mrs. Edith Barber at home; and her twin sister Mrs. Minnie Atchison. She was a good Christian woman, and was loved by all who knew her.

We extend sympathy to the bereaved.

Dearest loved one, we must say in the peaceful grave's embrace But thy memory will be cherished Till we say thy heavenly face.

Home is not what it was Since dear Annie is no more; In the place she lived, in peace she died.

Her life was asked, but God denied.

SO, stilled be the ceaseless long- And grief and sorrow be o'er; For what a happy reunion awaits

On that bright and beautiful

SOFTLY the stars are gleaming Upon a quiet grave;

There sleepeth without dreaming One we loved, but could not save.
